Deutscher Zahnarzt,
HAVING RECEIVED A NEW SUPPLY OF DENTAL Instruments, I, as heretofore, take pleasure in stating to my patrons and the public generally that I am prepared to perform all operations belonging to the Dental Department by the newest methods, in the most scientific and most skillful manner.
I also take this opportunity to thank the citizens of Portland and vicinity for their liberal patronage during my residence in this city, and hope, by strict work not only in conformity to their most economical interests but also in a style of workmanship not surpassed by any other Dental operator—so make in this my best return to maintain your confidence.
ARTIFICIAL TEETH, in the newest and most improved methods, constructed on the following materials:
GOLD, PLATINA, SILVER, RUBBER, AMBER, or ODONTITE BASE,
as the option of the Patient.
The Extraction of Teeth by his method is new to any other practitioner, and not undergo the unpleasant state of falling Chloroform, but will have his teeth extracted without that horrid pain the generality treat us the last endurable moment ... enduring.
All operations warranted to give satisfaction, or no charge will be made.
Special attention paid to the regulation of children's teeth.
Difficult Dental Operations particularly solicited.
Ladies waited on at their residences if desired.
References—Physicians and Families given at the Office.
Prices will be moderate in all cases.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JUNE 24, 1863.

By Telegraph

The dispatch this morning affords some relief to anxious and fearful souls, such as most of us are apt to have It is not so bad as it might be, but a good deal worse than it ought to have been if reasonable care and diligence had been exercised by those who had power and authority to act The Pennsylvania raid seems to be over, unless revived in a westerly direction—the people of the North have had a wholesome scare, and doubtless felt as if they had been struck by lightning—much patriotism has been evoked and developed—Gov Seymour now seems to have forgotten Vallandigham and remembered the peril of Pennsylvania—Gen McClellan was on hand—and there must have been an excited, solemn and anxious time generally

Hooker is taking care of Washington, while Richmond is said to be deserted and would be an easy prey to some active patriot who would slip up and seize it Is there none such?

The Democracy have been holding secession conventions in Ohio and Pennsylvania, and passed resolutions base and disloyal enough to satisfy the King of Dixie, to whom that kind of Democracy belongs

Vicksburg is still on the Mississippi, and her besiegers are in close vicinity—it is not their fault that they are kept outside of her limits No demonstration on the part of the rebel chief "who had pickets ten miles deep all round," seems to have been of sufficient account to have been reported, so we do not suppose that Grant begins to turn pale. We shall have good news from Vicksburg in a day or two We would be glad of the same from Port Hudson, but as that place is farther off, we have concluded to wait a little longer, though feeling sure that Banks with his usual undefeated good fortune, will before many days wear "Port Hudson" as a proud trophy on his banner

Gold—the popular thermometer—is still in a temperate place, and not much disturbed by all the wild excitements and noisy blasts—political and military—which have filled the air

A Trip through Dixie.—Recently, three correspondents of New York dailies, with Grant's army, were captured and carried through several Confederate cities to Richmond One of them has been released, and has published an interesting account of the adventures of the party We have room, however, only for the conclusions to which he came, which seem to us credible and consistent with recent reliable information from the South

The conclusion formed in a three weeks' sojourn, within the limits of the Confederacy, and a trip almost across the entire extent by a circuitous route that led almost down to the Gulf, then up again through the mountains of East Tennessee to Richmond, and along the valley of the James, may be thus briefly summed up

First—The people are brave, determined, and in the main united

Second—There may be temporary suffering for want of sufficient food, but starvation is impossible

Third—Although they can never probably have their army again at as high a number as now, as the material for conscription is almost exhausted, yet as the war has been conducted thus far, their military resources are sufficient to keep up the struggle for two years more

Fourth—Their strength is thrown entirely to the frontier, and if that frontier line were once pierced, if our Generals then begin to do their duty, the whole fabric of rebellion will be toppling down like a house built of cards

Fifth—Union and perseverance at the North are what the rebels most dread. Their greatest hope lies in our division, and their greatest encouragement is derived from the conduct of such men as Vallandigham He is regarded there as a martyr to the Southern cause, and they are convinced that he must have a considerable portion of the Northern people at his back

Umatilla.—Messrs T Myers and I W Case, just arrived from Umatilla, inform us that this new location is growing wonderfully There are now fifty three buildings, thirteen of which were erected during the four days that these gentlemen were there Very little regard is paid to the pretended title of the proprietor, Mr Lurchin, as any one who wishes a lot just naturally jumps it Packers are crowding into the place, and profess a great preference for the route thence to the mines over all others.

From Boise.—Mr Scott, just in from Boise, brings the following from that region

Reports had reached Placerville and Bannock City of the discovery of very rich mines on the Malheur river

A silver lode, which is thought by the discoverers and those who have seen specimens of the ore, to be very rich, has been discovered on the Owyhee, or Malheur Parties were leaving Boise to secure interests in the lode, sanguine that they would reap a rich reward

A band of Indians made a descent last week upon a party of miners on Burnt river and robbed them of 200 head of horses An effort was being made to raise a party to go in pursuit of the Indians

At Placerville, water was becoming scarce in the mines. At the Bannock City mines water is plenty.—Washington Statesman

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to June 16th.

Harrisburg, June 17th.—Dispatches from Shippingburg, eleven miles this side of Chambersburg, to midnight, show that the rebels are still at the latter place in force with cavalry and infantry said to number 20 000 —Gen Jenkins who commands the rebels ordered all the stores to be opened which was complied with The merchants were forced to take Confederate money in payment for goods Rebel cavalry to day occupied Little town, 11 miles from Gettysburg The rebel officers at Chambersburg stated that they were only waiting for infantry to move forward The authorities are inclined to believe however, that they will not move further North

Telegraph communication with Harper's Ferry is still open, and as near as ascertained all is quiet along the line Harper's Ferry is invested by the rebels on the Virginia side We have a large force on Maryland Heights, which is strongly fortified

The Baltimore City Council yesterday appropriated $400 000 for bounties Enlistments are going on

Philadelphia, June 17th.—A special dispatch, dated Harrisburg, midnight, says our reporter who returned from the front reports rebel pickets 47 miles from Harrisburg The rebels were encamped at three points around Chambersburg and were 35,000 strong under Jenkins

The citizens were at first allowed to leave, but afterwards they were refused

A letter from Harrisburg dated at noon yesterday, says a train of 100 wagons which left Martinsburg Va, Sunday 14th, arrived safely Col Smith's command at Hagerstown, had a fight of two hours yesterday 15th, when he was surrounded and forced to surrender

Albany, June 17.—Gen McClellan is here for the purpose of aiding Gov Seymour in organizing and forwarding troops for the defense of the Pennsylvania frontier Thousands have already been received and are beginning to move forward

Washington June 17.—A committee from Harrisburg waited on the President last night urging him to authorize Gen McClellan to issue a call for volunteers to repel the invasion of the free States Those recently mustered out of service, to a man, would undoubtedly respond to it, when a large army of veterans would thus be suddenly improvised

New York June 17.—The Herald's Baltimore dispatch dated at ten o'clock last night, says the rebel movement now in progress toward the North, is being made by Lee's whole army

Martinsburg, Pa is in possession of Ewell Lee's force engaged in this movement is fully 98,000

Philadelphia, June 17.—A Washington dispatch says our cavalry has been skirmishing with Lee's rear guard for two days It does not look as though the rebels intended giving battle on the old Bull Run ground

Our forces evacuated Frederick, Md and that vicinity, and fell back to the Relay House this morning No enemy pursuing, they have returned to Frederick with strong reinforcements Lee's army is moving on a larger line than Hooker, but has not out marched him as yet Hooker was at Fairfax Court-house this morning, the 16th It is believed that Harper's Ferry can be held against any force the rebels can bring.

Gen Hooker is hastening with his entire army to the defense of Washington, and will occupy a position best adapted to the defense of the place

Lee undoubtedly has an immense force between Washington and Culpepper Those left at Fredericksburg numbering nearly 20,000, will probably be added to that army as soon as possible

New York, June 17.—Special dispatches say the march from Falmouth to the present position of the army was severe on the troops many of the soldiers failed from the effect of the heat

Richmond, for the present, is abandoned, with the expectation that conscripts and new levies can be brought in sufficient numbers to garrison the defences.

It is expected that a force of from 20,000 to 30,000 sympathizers will be in readiness in Maryland to co-operate with the rebel column

Philadelphia, June 17th.—The Enquirer's letter, dated Bull Run, Va, 15th, says the Grand Army of the Potomac is now near the old Bull Run battle ground The 3d army corps arrived at Manassas Junction, Monday. The 1st and 11th corps are at Centerville, the rest of the army consisting of the 3d, 5th, 6th and 12th army corps will probably reach here to night

Second Dispatch.

New York, June 18th.—Sterling 157, gold opened at 43, advanced to 45¾ and closed steady at 44¾

Harrisburg, June 18th.—The rebels under Jenkins evacuated Chambersburg at 1 o'clock yesterday The authorities here now have telegraphic communication with Chambersburg During the rebels stay all private property was respected, except horses, cattle and common necessaries of life Jackson's division, under Ewell, is at Hagerstown Imboden was at Chambersburg with two regiments infantry and one regiment of cavalry Wheeling may be his destination Fortifying is still going on here

Washington, June 18th.—Reports say the rebels have a force of 8000 at Williamsport, Md Kelly telegraphs that Imboden is before Cumberland with thirteen regiments, and a battery Passengers from Ellicksburg say there are no rebels in that direction Passengers from Frederick, Md, report only a few rebel pickets at Hagerstown

Baltimore June 18th.—The rebels invested Harper's Ferry on the 16th, and attempted to surprise Gen Tyler. The latter repaired to Maryland Heights and rebels retreated to Williamsport Tyler recrossed to his former position Rebels tore up the railroad and damaged the canal Travel is resumed between Harper's Ferry and Baltimore Report says rebels left Chambersburg, and are not at Westminster—a small force is at Hagerstown A rebel letter captured, says the rebel cavalry is en route for Pittsburg Pa

Harrisburg, June 18th.—Troops from the State are arriving rapidly

The Democratic State Convention nominated Geo W Woodward for Governor and Walter Laney for Judge of the Supreme Court

It is believed there are no rebel troops in the State now Jenkins cavalry was at Hagerstown last night, no infantry with him

McConnellsville Va, June 17.—Stragglers from the late fights bring news up to last night from below They say the rebels 8 000 strong, crossed the river at Williamsport and are marching on Hancock Md where 1 600 of Milroy's routed troops were collected who being demoralized fled on the reported advance of the rebels

New York June 18.—A large English steamer attempted to run the blockade at Charleston and was fired into and sunk She is a total loss

Positive information says the rebel army of the Potomac is 120 000 strong

Chicago, June 18.—The Republican Convention of Ohio yesterday nominated John Brough for Governor Col Wm M Stone was nominated for Governor of Iowa by the Republicans yesterday

Vicksburg June 13.—The rebel batteries are almost silent on all sides Only a few riflemen are firing on our sappers The bombardment is progressing vigorously We have some guns in position now which throw shells over the river Deserters say the men and line officers are disheartened and only holding off from desertion thinking they will be honorably discharged

Chicago, June 18.—The Democratic mass meeting at Springfield yesterday was largely attended The resolutions demanded the release of Vallandigham and others arrested by the military authorities denounce secession and declare that the further offensive prosecution of this war tends to subvert the Constitution and the Government and spreads up on the nation all the disastrous consequences of misrule and anarchy favor peace on a Union basis, and for the accomplishment of which purpose propose a National Convention upon terms of peace which shall have in view the restoration of the Union as it was and securing by constitutional enactments such rights to the several States and people thereof as honor and justice demands

Letter from Boise Mines

Placerville Idaho Ter'y, June 7, 1863

EDITOR ORE GONIAN

We had a man for breakfast this morning in this flourishing village His name was Hickey—Christian name unknown, but of course supposed to be Patrick He was slain by an elderly sporting gentleman known as 'Uncle Andy,' but irreverently called by certain precocious youngsters 'Snapping Andy' However, those who are disposed to jest about the old gentleman, generally do it while he is absent. Hickey was a fighter and something more, it is generally thought so he started after Uncle Andy, following him from house to house, using approbrious epithets, until, patience ceasing to be a virtue, Uncle Andy, at last picked up a pick-handle and struck his pursuer once on the cranium, killing him as dead as the most remote of his Celtic progenitors is at this moment Thus perished another of the desperadoes Let it be inscribed on the clap board which may be placed at the head of his grave, Died with his boots on" Uncle Andy is generally I may say unanimously, acquitted by the community

But all this is not telling you how I got to Boise, and about the diggings, which I will proceed to do, and in so doing will commence at the beginning and tell you what I saw and heard on the road and in the mines and about what I am now seeing and hearing daily.

FROM WALLA WALLA TO BOISE.

Starting from Walla Walla to Boise in company with three others, we reached Wild Horse creek the first night The next day we crossed the prairie to the Umatilla, which was fordable It is a stream seventy five feet wide and two or three feet deep at the ford Here we commenced to ascend the Blue Mountains the distance to the summit being three miles From thence along the top of the Mountains, over a somewhat broken country, it is twelve miles to Lee's Encampment—Thirteen miles of very broken country lies between this place and Dry Creek, and six miles of still worse road brought us to the Grand Ronde river From the crossing of this stream, it is twelve miles to La Grande a small village of twenty five houses, at the foot of the mountains, in Grand Ronde valley—Not stopping to examine the beauties of this valley, we crossed it in eight miles of travel, and again ascended the Blue Mountains, and again descending them reached the North Fork of Powder river in eighteen miles In five miles more we reached the South Fork of Powder river, and struck out across the desert to the waters of Burnt river,—the first good camp being twenty-five miles distant In the middle of the desert one of my companions raised himself in his stirrups, and looking all around, said 'My God! what a desert place I could not wish my worst enemy buried in such a place as this" No nor would I, and I will say that I am a pretty good hater as times go There are several pools of brackish water on this desert, but only one that is tolerable—distant eighteen miles from the last crossing of Powder river

On Burnt river the feed is good The distance down this river and its tributaries is forty miles, and in that distance a wayfarer may be sure of meeting as many rattlesnakes as in any similar distance in the world. The rattles of these hideous reptiles are heard every few minutes, the air appears to be scented with rattlesnake venom, and the water tastes like a weak decoction of rattlesnake broth The people who live on the river say, that the snakes are not numerous just at that point, but down the river there are quite a number

'Never was on the Malheur, were you stranger?' asked a settler on Burnt river

'Never had that pleasure," we replied

'Talking about rattlesnakes, there ain't none over there, why, sir if they were all raked together, you could fence in the bottom lands of that stream, with a fence seven snakes high, snaked and ridered"

'Do we have to pass through the valley of the Malheur?' anxiously enquired one of my companions

'No but you have got to go up Snake river, where the rattlesnakes are so thick that my horse cut one in two as he galloped along the road"

'Is there no way to keep them from crawling into our beds when we spread our blankets on the ground?" I asked

"Oh yes just make your bed on the ground and then climb up into a tree and hang out with a lariat rope you will be perfectly safe always provided a scorpion does not drop down and sting you

Scorpions why they are poisonous," said one of our party

'Oh no particularly," rejoined the settler "One of our boys got stung in such a manner that he couldn't sit down for a month or so but it did him good, he was always sitting around before that doing nothing and now he is entirely broke of his indolence"

Here an Irishman broke in "Don't say another word if you don't want to scare me so that I'll never get to Boise"

So thus closed the rattlesnake conversation but whenever one of the party dismounted he walked as gingerly as if he was stepping on a road paved with rattlesnakes Some procured long switches and beat the brush to make the snakes spring their rattles Hurrying through the rattlesnake district in one day we reached Snake river above the mouth of Burnt river, by crossing a low divide It is ridge four miles in width Along the bank of this stream the prospect was dreary we travelled thirteen miles to Tub's at $1 Sold with bad water keeping on without any incidents eighteen miles we came to the Weiser on Snake river, a few miles above the mouth of Weiser river Stopping at this point we [illegible] miles up the Payette to the Antes Rancho and made the passage of the Payette Mountain in fifteen miles to Placerville by the new pack trail of Thatcher & Co which is the shortest and best route to travel Perhaps if time serves, I may give you a description of the country through which we passed on our road, to the mines, but at present I shall content myself with a description of—

THE DISTANCE FROM THE NORTHERN OUTLET OF THE BLUE MOUNTAINS TO PLACERVILLE

From foot of Blue Mountains to Dry Creek		13
"	La Grande	8
to	across Grand Ronde valley	15
to	Tim Goodale's	4
to	On the Fork of Powder river	21
to	The Straw Ranch	4
to	Express Ranch	10
to	Snake River	18
to	Tub Springs	18
to	Weiser Ferry	50
to	Horseshoe Bar	4
to	Placerville
Total		250

Add fifty miles for the distance from the foot of the Blue Mountains to Umatilla Landing and forty from the same point to Walla Walla, and the table is complete

A WORD ABOUT THE MINES

Hereafter I purpose to give you a full account of these mines, but at present content myself with remarking that there are no disappointed, returning miners on the road no growling miners in the mines, no doubt expressed right on the ground that the Boise mines are the best now being worked If several hundred very respectable persons have not conspired to deceive your correspondent these mines are rich extensive and surrounded by every desired facility for their development and blessed with a beautiful climate.

ANOTHER MAN KILLED

Spanish Butte Canon denier, was killed at Fort Hogem on to-day by a man named Maguire Details have not come to hand

MORE ABOUT THE HICKEY HOMICIDE

Hickey a christian name was Jerry—Uncle Andy's name is McKay He had designated Hickey as a road agent,—so Hickey said—at Lewiston, and hence the row It is very likely that this is the true cause of the fight as the old man is in the habit of speaking his mind pretty freely about such matters.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JUNE 24, 1863.

By Telegraph.

The dispatch this morning affords some relief to anxious and fearful souls such as most of us are apt to have. It is not so bad as it might be, but a good deal worse than it ought to have been if reasonable care and diligence had been exercised by those who had power and authority to act. The Pennsylvania raid seems to be over, unless revived in a westerly direction—the people of the North have had a wholesome scare, and doubtless felt as if they had been struck by lightning—much patriotism has been evoked and developed—Gov. Seymour now seems to have forgotten Vallandigham and remembered the peril of Pennsylvania—Gen. McClellan was on hand—and there must have been an excited, solemn and anxious time generally.

Hooker is taking care of Washington, while Richmond is said to be deserted and would be an easy prey to some active patriot who would slip up and seize it. Is there none such?

The Democracy have been holding secession conventions in Ohio and Pennsylvania, and passed resolutions base and disloyal enough to satisfy the King of Dixie, to whom that kind of Democracy belongs.

Vicksburg is still on the Mississippi, and her besiegers are in close vicinity—it is not their fault that they are kept outside of her limits. No demonstration on the part of the rebel chief "who had pickets ten miles deep all round," seems to have been of sufficient account to have been reported, so we do not suppose that Grant begins to turn pale. We shall have good news from Vicksburg in a day or two. We would be glad of the same from Port Hudson, but as that place is farther off, we have concluded to wait a little longer, though feeling sure that Banks with his usual undefeated good fortune, will before many days wear "Port Hudson" as a proud trophy on his banner.

Gold—the popular thermometer—is still in a temperate place, and not much disturbed by all the wild excitements and noisy blasts—political and military—which have filled the air.

A Trip through Dixie.—Recently, three correspondents of New York dailies, with Grant's army, were captured and carried through several Confederate cities to Richmond. One of them has been released, and has published an interesting account of the adventures of the party. We have room, however, only for the conclusions to which he came, which seem to us credible and consistent with recent reliable information from the South:

The conclusion formed in a three weeks' sojourn within the limits of the Confederacy, and a trip almost across the entire extent by a circuitous route that led almost down to the Gulf, then up again through the mountains of East Tennessee to Richmond, and along the valley of the James, may be thus briefly summed up:

First—The people are brave, determined, and in the main united.

Second—There may be temporary suffering for want of sufficient food, but starvation is impossible.

Third—Although they can never probably have their army again at as high a number as now, as the material for conscription is almost exhausted, yet as the war has been conducted thus far, their military resources are sufficient to keep up the struggle for two years more.

Fourth—Their strength is thrown entirely to the frontier, and if that frontier line were once pierced; if our Generals then begin to do their duty, the whole fabric of rebellion will be toppling down like a house built of cards.

Fifth—Union and perseverance at the North are what the rebels most dread. Their greatest hope lies in our division, and their greatest encouragement is derived from the conduct of such men as Vallandigham. He is regarded there as a martyr to the Southern cause, and they are convinced that he must have a considerable portion of the Northern people at his back.

Umatilla.—Messrs. T. Myers and I. W. Case, just arrived from Umatilla, inform us that this new location is growing wonderfully. There are now fifty-three buildings, thirteen of which were erected during the four days that these gentlemen were there. Very little regard is paid to the pretended title of the proprietor, Mr. Lurchin, as any one who wishes a lot just naturally jumps it. Packers are crowding into the place, and profess a great preference for the route thence to the mines over all others.

From Boise.—Mr. Scott, just in from Boise, brings the following from that region:

Reports had reached Placerville and Bannock City of the discovery of very rich mines on the Malheur river.

A silver lode, which is thought by the discoverers and those who have seen specimens of the ore, to be very rich, has been discovered on the Owyhee, or Malheur. Parties were leaving Boise to secure interests in the lode, sanguine that they would reap a rich reward.

A band of Indians made a descent last week upon a party of miners on Burnt river and robbed them of 200 head of horses. An effort was being made to raise a party to go in pursuit of the Indians.

At Placerville, water was becoming scarce in the mines. At the Bannock City mines water is plenty.—Washington Statesman.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to June 16th.

Harrisburg, June 17th.—Dispatches from Shippingburg, eleven miles this side of Chambersburg, to midnight, show that the rebels are still at the latter place in force with cavalry and infantry, said to number 20,000.—Gen. Jenkins, who commands the rebels, ordered all the stores to be opened, which was complied with. The merchants were forced to take Confederate money in payment for goods. Rebel cavalry to-day occupied Littlestown, 11 miles from Gettysburg. The rebel officers at Chambersburg stated that they were only waiting for infantry to move forward. The authorities are inclined to believe however, that they will not move further North.

Telegraph communication with Harper's Ferry is still open, and as near as ascertained all is quiet along the line. Harper's Ferry is invested by the rebels on the Virginia side. We have a large force on Maryland Heights, which is strongly fortified.

The Baltimore City Council, yesterday appropriated $400,000 for bounties. Enlistments are going on.

Philadelphia, June 17th.—A special dispatch, dated Harrisburg, midnight, says our reporter who returned from the front, reports rebel pickets 47 miles from Harrisburg. The rebels were encamped at three points around Chambersburg and were 35,000 strong, under Jenkins.

The citizens were at first allowed to leave, but afterwards they were refused.

A letter from Harrisburg, dated at noon yesterday, says a train of 100 wagons which left Martinsburg, Va., Sunday 14th, arrived safely. Col. Smith's command at Hagerstown, had a fight of two hours yesterday, 15th, when he was surrounded and forced to surrender.

Albany, June 17.—Gen. McClellan is here for the purpose of aiding Gov. Seymour in organizing and forwarding troops for the defense of the Pennsylvania frontier. Thousands have already been received and are beginning to move forward.

Washington, June 17.—A committee from Harrisburg waited on the President last night, urging him to authorize Gen. McClellan to issue a call for volunteers to repel the invasion of the free States. Those recently mustered out of service, to a man, would undoubtedly respond to it, when a large army of veterans would thus be suddenly improvised.

New York, June 17.—The Herald's Baltimore dispatch dated at ten o'clock last night, says the rebel movement now in progress toward the North, is being made by Lee's whole army.

Martinsburg, Pa., is in possession of Ewell. Lee's force engaged in this movement is fully 98,000.

Philadelphia, June 17.—A Washington dispatch says our cavalry has been skirmishing with Lee's rear guard for two days. It does not look as though the rebels intended giving battle on the old Bull Run ground.

Our forces evacuated Frederick, Md., and that vicinity, and fell back to the Relay House this morning. No enemy pursuing, they have returned to Frederick with strong reinforcements. Lee's army is moving on a larger line than Hooker, but has not outmarched him as yet. Hooker was at Fairfax Court-house this morning, the 16th. It is believed that Harper's Ferry can be held against any force the rebels can bring.

Gen. Hooker is hastening with his entire army to the defense of Washington, and will occupy a position best adapted to the defense of the place.

Lee undoubtedly has an immense force between Washington and Culpepper. Those left at Fredericksburg, numbering nearly 20,000, will probably be added to that army as soon as possible.

New York, June 17.—Special dispatches say the march from Falmouth, to the present position of the army was severe on the troops, many of the soldiers failed from the effect of the heat.

Richmond, for the present, is abandoned, with the expectation that conscripts and new levies can be brought in sufficient numbers to garrison the defences.

It is expected that a force of from 20,000 to 30,000 sympathizers will be in readiness in Maryland to co-operate with the rebel column.

Philadelphia, June 17th.—The Enquirer's letter, dated Bull Run, Va., 15th, says the Grand Army of the Potomac is now near the old Bull Run battle ground. The 3d army corps arrived at Manassas Junction, Monday. The 1st and 11th corps are at Centerville, the rest of the army consisting of the 3d, 5th, 6th and 12th army corps will probably reach here to-night.

Second Dispatch.

New York, June 18th.—Sterling, 157; gold opened at 43, advanced to 45¼, and closed steady at 44.

Harrisburg, June 18th.—The rebels under Jenkins evacuated Chambersburg at 1 o'clock yesterday. The authorities here now have telegraphic communication with Chambersburg. During the rebels stay all private property was respected, except horses, cattle and common necessaries of life. Jackson's division, under Ewell, is at Hagerstown. Imboden was at Chambersburg with two regiments infantry and one regiment of cavalry. Wheeling may be his destination. Fortifying is still going on here.

Washington, June 18th.—Reports say the rebels have a force of 8000 at Williamsport, Md. Kelly telegraphs that Imboden is before Cumberland with thirteen regiments, and a battery. Passengers from Elliotsburg say there are no rebels in that direction. Passengers from Frederick, Md., report only a few rebel pickets at Hagerstown.

Baltimore, June 18th.—The rebels invested Harper's Ferry on the 16th, and attempted to surprise Gen. Tyler. The latter repaired to Maryland Hights, and rebels retreated to Williamsport. Tyler recrossed to his former position. Rebels tore up the railroad, and damaged the canal. Travel is resumed between Harper's Ferry and Baltimore. Report says rebels left Chambersburg, and are not at Westminster,—a small force is at Hagerstown. A rebel letter captured, says the rebel cavalry is en route for Pittsburg, Pa.

Harrisburg, June 18th.—Troops from the State are arriving rapidly.

The Democratic State Convention nominated Geo. W. Woodward for Governor, and Walter Laney for Judge of the Supreme Court.

It is believed there are no rebel troops in the State now. Jenkin's cavalry was at Hagerstown last night; no infantry with him.

McConnelsville, Va., June 17.—Stragglers from the late fights bring news up to last night from below. They say the rebels, 8,000 strong, crossed the river at Williamsport and are marching on Hunecock, Md., where 1,600 of Milroy's routed troops were collected, who being demoralized fled on the reported advance of the rebels.

New York, June 18.—A large English steamer attempted to run the blockade at Charleston, and was fired into and sunk. She is a total loss.

Positive information says the rebel army of the Potomac is 120,000 strong.

Chicago, June 18.—The Republican Convention of Ohio yesterday nominated John Brough for Governor. Col. Wm. M. Stone was nominated for Governor of Iowa by the Republicans yesterday.

Vicksburg, June 13.—The rebel batteries are almost silent on all sides. Only a few riflemen are firing on our sappers. The bombardment is progressing vigorously. We have some guns in position now which throw shells over the river. Deserters say the men and line officers are discontented, and only holding off from desertion thinking they will be honorably discharged.

Chicago, June 18.—The Democratic mass meeting at Springfield yesterday was largely attended. The resolutions demanded the release of Vallandigham and others arrested by the military authorities; denounced secession, and declare that the further offensive prosecution of this war tends to subvert the Constitution and the Government and entails upon the nation all the disastrous consequences of misrule and anarchy; favor peace on a Union basis, and for the accomplishment of which purpose propose a National Convention upon terms of peace which shall have in view the restoration of the Union as it was, and securing by constitutional enactments such rights to the several States and people thereof as honor and justice demands.

Letter from Boise Mines.

Placerville, Idaho Ter'y, June 7, 1863.

Editor Oregonian:

We had a man for breakfast this morning in this flourishing village. His name was Hickey—Christian name unknown, but of course supposed to be Patrick. He was slain by an elderly sporting gentleman known as "Uncle Andy," but irreverently called by certain precocious youngsters, 'Snapping Andy.' However, those who are disposed to jest about the old gentleman, generally do it while he is absent. Hickey was a fighter, and something more, it is generally thought; so he started after Uncle Andy, following him from house to house, using approbious epithets, until, patience ceasing to be a virtue, Uncle Andy, at last, picked up a pick-handle and struck his pursuer once on the cranium, killing him as dead as the most remote of his Celtic progenitors is at this moment. Thus perished another of the desperadoes. Let it be inscribed on the clap-board which may be placed at the head of his grave, "Died with his boots on." Uncle Andy is generally, I may say unanimously, acquitted by the community.

But all this is not to the point—you how I got to Boise, and about the diggings; which I will proceed to do, and in so doing will commence at the beginning and tell you what I saw and heard on the road and in the mines; and about what I am now seeing and hearing daily.

From Walla Walla to Boise.

Starting from Walla Walla to Boise, in company with three others, we reached Wild Horse creek the first night. The next day we crossed the prairie to the Umatilla, which was fordable. It is a stream seventy five feet wide and two or three feet deep at the ford. Here we commenced to ascend the Blue Mountains, the distance to the summit being three miles. From thence along the top of the Mountains, over a somewhat broken country, it is twelve miles to Lee's Encampment.—Thirteen miles of very broken country lies between this place and Dry Creek, and six miles of still worse road brought us to the Grand Ronde river. From the crossing of this stream, it is twelve miles to La Grande, a small village of twenty-five houses, at the foot of the mountains, in Grand Ronde valley.—Not stopping to examine the beauties of this valley, we crossed it in eight miles of travel, and again ascended the Blue Mountains, and again descending them reached the North Fork of Powder river in eighteen miles. In five miles more we reached the South Fork of Powder river, and struck out across the desert to the waters of Burnt river,—the first good camp being twenty-five miles distant. In the middle of the desert one of my companions raised himself in his stirrups, and looking all around, said: "My God! what a desert place. I could not wish my worst enemy buried in such a place as this." No nor would I, and I will say that I am a pretty good hater as times go. There are several pools of brackish water on this desert, but only one that is tolerable—distant eighteen miles from the last crossing of Powder river.

On Burnt river the feed is good. The distance down this river and its tributaries is forty miles, and in that distance a wayfarer may be sure of meeting as many rattlesnakes as in any similar distance in the world. The rattles of these hideous reptiles are heard every few minutes; the air appears to be scented with rattlesnake venom, and the water tastes like a weak decoction of rattlesnake broth. The people who live on the river say, that the snakes are not numerous just at that point, but down the river there are quite a number.

"Never was on the Malheur, were you stranger?" asked a settler on Burnt river.

"Never had that pleasure," we replied.

"Talking about rattlesnakes, there ain't none over there; why, sir, if they were all raked together, you could fence in the bottom lands of that stream, with a fence seven snakes high, snaked-and-ridered."

"Do we have to pass through the valley of the Malheur?" anxiously enquired one of my companions.

"No but you have got to go up Snake river, where the rattlesnakes are so thick that my horse cut one in two as he gallopped along the road."

"Is there no way to keep them from crawling into our beds, when we spread our blankets on the ground?" I asked.

"Oh yes, just make your bed on the ground and then climb up into a tree and hang out with a lariat rope; you will be perfectly safe, always provided a scorpion does not drop down and sting you."

"Scorpions! why they are poisonous," said one of our party.

"Oh, not particularly," rejoined the settler. "One of our boys got stung in such a manner that he couldn't sit down for a month or so, but it did him good; he was always sitting around before that, doing nothing, and now he is entirely broke of his indolence."

Here an Irishman broke in: "Don't say another word, if you don't want to scare me so that I'll niver get to Bi-ee!"

So thus closed the rattle snake conversation; but whenever one of the party dismounted he walked as gingerly as if he was stepping on a road paved with rattlesnakes. Some procured long switches and beat the brush to make the snakes spring their rattles. Hurrying through the rattlesnake district, in one day we reached Snake river, above the mouth of Burnt river, by crossing a low divide ridge four miles in width. Along the bank of this stream the prospect was dreary, we travelled thirteen miles to Tub Spring without water; keeping on, without stopping, in eighteen miles we came to the Washoe valley on Snake river, a few miles above the Payette. Crossing at this point, we travelled ty miles up the Payette to the Horse Rancho, and made the passage of the Payette Mountain in fifteen miles to Placerville by the new pack-trail of Thatcher & Co., which is the shortest and best route to travel. Perhaps, if time serves, I may give you a description of the country through which we passed on our road to the mines; but at present I shall content myself with a description of—

THE DISTANCE FROM THE NORTHERN FOOT OF THE BLUE MOUNTAINS TO PLACERVILLE.

From foot of Blue Mountains to Lee's	Encampment	13 miles
From thence to Dry Creek		13 "
" " across	Grand Ronde valley	8 "
" " to	Tim Goodell's	18 "
" " to	South Fork of Powder river	2 "
" " to	the Straw Ranch	7 "
" " to	Express Ranch	20 "
" " to	Snake River	12 "
" " to	Tub Springs	13 "
" " to	Washoe Forty	19 "
" " to	Horseshoe Ranch	9 "
" " to	Placerville	16 "
Total		93 "

Add fifty miles for the distance from the foot of the Blue Mountains to Umatilla Landing, and forty from the same point to Walla Walla, and the table is complete.

A word about the mines.

Hereafter I purpose to give you a full account of these mines, but at present content myself with remarking that there were no disappointed, returning miners on the road: no growling miners in the mines; no doubt expressed right on the ground that the Boise mines are the best now being worked. If several hundred very respectable persons have not conspired to deceive your correspondent, these mines are rich, extensive and surrounded by every desired facility for their development, and blessed with a beautiful climate.

Another man killed.

"Spanish Rube," a monte-dealer, was killed at Fort Hogem to-day, by a man named Maguire. Details have not come to hand.

More about the Hickey homicide.

Hickey's christian name was Jerry.—Uncle Andy's name is McKay. He had designated Hickey as a road agent,—so Hickey said—at Lewiston, and hence the row. It is very likely that this is the true cause of the fight, as the old man is in the habit of speaking his mind pretty freely about such matters.

Scrofula Cured.

New Albany, Ind, September 25, 1859.

Messrs. A. B. Scovill & Co.—Gents: In answer to your inquiries about the cure of my son, I will say that he is now ten years old, and has been SCROFULOUS FROM INFANCY, although under the care of one best physicians, who said that he could cure him. In the first place the disease made its appearance in small knots upon the glands of his neck, and finally they ulcerated and formed running sores, which reduced him almost to a skeleton. He lost his appetite, and we gave him up, and thought that he could not be cured. I got DR. MOTT'S LIVER PILLS, following the directions. He had used them but a short time before he was greatly relieved, and now is entirely well. Yours truly, ROBERT STILE.

Notice to Contractors.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received by the undersigned until and including Tuesday, the 7th day of July next, for grading, planking or filling with broken stone, as may be required; constructing plank sidewalks and crosswalks, and repairing such portions of the streets as may not require being laid anew; in accordance with Ordinance No. 140, entitled "An Ordinance to improve certain streets in the City of Portland," and the plans and specifications prepared therefor.

The work is divided into sections and each proposal must specify the number of the section, as well as define clearly and distinctly the streets or portions of a reets for which the proposal is made—the contractor to furnish all the materials and perform the labor. Proposals must state the price per cubic yard for excavations, price per cubic yard for filling, price per square foot for roadway planking, price per square foot for side-walks and cross-walks; all planking to be measured on the surface when laid; and the price per cubic yard for filling with broken stone.

The plans and specifications, together with a copy of the Ordinance will be ready for inspection on Friday, the 26th inst., at the office of the Clerk of the Common Council. Proposals should be endorsed "Proposals for Improving Streets, Section No. —" and directed to the Common Council. No bid will be entertained not in accordance with the Ordinance and the plans and specifications above-named and the Common Council reserves the right to reject any and all bids not deemed for the interests of the city.

Recorder's Court.—Several cases were up for disposal in this Court yesterday. F. H. Ramsey, for getting drunk and lying in the street, was fined five dollars and costs. Paid. Two others were hauled up for the same offense and also fined, one twenty dollars and costs, and the other fifteen. Paid.

Ellen Robertson was arraigned for violating Ordinance No. 142, but after hearing the evidence, his Honor discharged her.

C. L. Peck, for depositing nuisance in the street, was fined five dollars and costs.

Several persons were arrested for failing to take out business licenses. Trial set for ten o'clock this morning.

Masonic Festival.—A large number of the Masonic fraternity of this city left this morning to attend the St. John's Day Festival to be held at Dalles at four o'clock P. M., to-day.

To Contractors.—Proposals are advertised for to-day for grading and planking streets, cross walks and side-walks.

From the Upper Country.—Wells, Fargo & Co. furnished us last evening with a copy of the Golden Age of the 17th inst., from which we take the following:

Chas. Getzler arrived at Lewiston on the 9th, from Placerville, in the incredible time of twenty-nine hours and twenty-three minutes.

H. D. Sanborn writes that the road is far better than he expected to find, and thinks it can be materially shortened.

Savary, the person who stole the money from the What Cheer House, and was subsequently arrested in this city and returned to military post at Lapwai, has escaped.

Miners at Oro Fino and Pierce City are doing remarkably well, and it is said that a hundred men can find employment there, as laborers are scarce and in great demand.

Mr. Johns, who has been through the mining regions of Boise, speaks of them as follows: Of the mines themselves, I should deem them rich, for out of the 12,000 people there, I hear scarcely any complaining. Many have been [illegible] ing for the purpose of outfitting and [illegible] The "Basin" I should think [illegible] thirty to thirty-five miles [illegible] and worked by the different mining camps. I had tangible evidence that [illegible] of the claims were very rich. The Walla Walla Statesman says: There is universal complaint throughout the valley of the scarcity of work hands. During the reaching [illegible] men can find employment here in assisting to harvest the crops. The unemployed in the mining regions, in their passage between the different districts, would do well to tarry here during the harvest season.

It is estimated that the expenses of carrying out the late [illegible] with the Nez Perces will be upwards of $200,000. The amount of money expended during the progress of the treaty arrangements was about $30,000.

Returned.—Dr. A. G. Henry, Surveyor General of Washington Territory, returned to the East on Monday last. He appears much improved by the trip.—Standard.

We have feared that nothing would improve the functionary, but if one trip has done so, we hope he will keep moving, as if he travels to the end of his life, there will still be room for improvement.

☞ The examination of the classes of the Portland Public School will commence Thursday morning, June 25th, and continue two days. The directors, parents, and friends of the school are cordially invited to be present.

DENTAL CARDS.—Certificates received by Dr. C. KOEHLER from his former places of residence:

This is to recommendation is due Dr. W. KOEHLER, a Practical Dentist, for his skill, thorough professional attainments, and complete knowledge of the science of Dentistry. I can fully recommend Dr. Koehler to all who may need the services of his professional services. J. S. TITUS, M.D.
Placerville, May 5th, 1859.

I have known Dr. KOEHLER as a practicing Dentist in this place for some time past. He is thoroughly versed in his profession, and I would cordially recommend him to the citizens of Placerville, May 5th, 1859. JOHN COOKE, M.D.

MOKELUMNE HILL, August 30, 1860.

Having had occasion to employ several operators to construct a set of artificial teeth for me, but without having received any benefit from them, I last consulted Dr. W. KOEHLER, to whom I gave my case for another trial. He has made a full set of teeth, which I am now wearing with the greatest comfort and satisfaction desired, and I would recommend him to all in need of the services of a skillful Dentist. W. McPADDEN, M. D.

Storage.—The Fire-Proof Stone Warehouse, opposite Umatilla House, is the only building, "not made of wood," in the Dalles, where goods are taken on STORAGE. All the houses that take goods on storage are wooden buildings, and in exposed parts of the town liable to the risk of fire. The subscriber reserves his patrons that his charges are but $1 50 per ton per month storage and although his is wooden buildings is $1 00 per ton, yet the public will fail to perceive the advantages the subscriber possesses over other warehouses of this place.

DR. D. JAYNES'

EXPECTORANT

AND SANATIVE PILLS

HAVE BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC SO LONG and found such general favor in every region of country where they have been sold, (and there is no place on the civilized globe where they have not been sold) that it would seem almost superfluous at this time to direct attention to them through the medium of the press Yet it is due to suffering humanity, and especially to that numerous class who in the changeable climate of the Pacific Coast suffer from

Diseases of the Lungs & Throat, including and ending in CONSUMPTION, many of whom may not have used this remedy that they should be induced to trial of some of the cases where its influence has been useful in removing complaints from which they are suffering, The EXPECTORANT

Operates immediately upon the Disease,

SURELY AND SPEEDILY ERADICATING IT, while the SANATIVE PILLS, by preserving regularity in the Bowels and giving a healthy tone to the other internal organs old and under the perfect operation of the former

Attention is asked to the following Certificates selected at random from the mass in the possession of the proprietors

Upper Uwchland Chester Co Pa Sept 15 1858

Dr D JAYNE—Having been afflicted with ASTHMA and BRONCHITIS, and having the advice of some of the most eminent physicians whose skillful treatment of my case did not prove to be of any avail I obtained no relief for my suffering until I commenced the use of your EXPECTORANT After taking it for about three months I was entirely cured. NATHAN PENNYPACKER

Abington Long Island Jan 15 1860

L W TINELLI, Esq New York—Sir As you well know I had been afflicted with BRONCHITIS accompanied with the most painful tightness of the chest and great difficulty in breathing for nearly two months, and I had almost lost all confidence in the power of relief at once, when at your friendly suggestion I began the well known (but not enough known) "EXPECTORANT of Dr Jayne, of Philadelphia Three or four days after having commenced to take it, my cough had nearly subsided the expectoration was easy and the breathing quite free

I can now quite another man, and my general health has never been better

I remain, my dear Tinelli with esteem your servant and friend J B MOYER

Winfield Tuscarawas Co O May 7 1860

Dr D JAYNE—Dear Sir One bottle of your Expectorant cured my daughter of the LUNG FEVER after having been given by the hopes of recovery During the attack she had a number of convulsions She is now perfectly well I J H COFFMAN

Burlington Bradford Co Pa July 23, 1863

Dr D JAYNE—Dear Sir My son was for nine months a half years afflicted with a disease resembling CONSUMPTION For two years he was not able to labor He was finally induced to try your EXPECTORANT and PILLS and after taking 10 bottles and some PILLS was completely cured, and is now able to labor every day JOHN HENRY

We would add to the above that we sold to Mr Henry the medicine for his son and know that the statement is true

MERRY, WILHELM & CO

For a greater number and variety of certificates and fuller information regarding these and other of Dr D Jaynes and Sons Preparations reference is given to the ANNUAL ALMANAC which may be had from any Druggist or Dealer in Medicines

PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums and vegetable oils and herbs It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any however delicate, to be injured by it in the least I will continue to ask the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases If they are not satisfied with its healing properties, the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally & the externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely and take a dose of it internally morning noon and night it will not only cure the pain but will remove the cause of the disease

If you have the Dyspepsia and your food distresses your stomach after eating take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea, to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day

If you have the Diarrhœa, or a relaxed state of the bowels take a dose of Pain Panacea and they will soon be restored If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe the gum at the same time, it will stop the pain instantly

If you have a pain in the Breast Side Back or Kidneys, bathe parts affected freely and right at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally

If a Mother has a caked breast apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold although you were going to have a fever take a dose of Panacea

If you have a wound, cut, or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea, it will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time

The Patent Rag-Chewer.

In a village not many hundred miles from Boston there is a paper mill, which attracts no small share of attention from the curious, and elicits many a visit, as all are of course anxious to see the process of converting old rags into paper. It sometimes happens that these crowds of admirers of the marvelous contain among their number some of those real matter-of-fact kind of fellows, who like to know something of causes as well as effects, which may be illustrated by the following dialogue which recently occurred:

'I say, stranger, how do you get them ere rags fine enough for making paper?'

'We have men employed to chew them, sir,' replied the paper man.

'To what?—to chew them, did you say?'

'Yes, to chew them, to be sure! Did you never hear of chewing rags to make paper?'

'No, I never did, and would like to know what kind of wages you give, cuze I'se got a little the best set of teeth you ever did see,' said the green 'un, grinning, guashing at the same time, in the way of exhibition, with a fury that made the jesting proprietor quake lest the joke should turn upon himself, in the form of a personal combat.

'I see, I see,' replied the paper man, stepping back. 'I never saw a better set of teeth for business. Well, we give experienced hands $2 50 per day, and young beginners we give $2. Do you think you would like the business, sir?'

'Yes, sir-ree, and the wages, too,' replied the other with delight.

'Very well, you may set in now for a month, and at the expiration of that, we no doubt will raise your wages. Here, you may commence on this'—handing an old saddle-blanket to his much delighted applicant, who took it, and sat down to his task with as much sang froid as an epicure would to a well-roasted piece of beefsteak.

'I say, old pard, do you think that ere blanket will stand by me any time at all? Why, I could chew it all smash up and swallow it before you could chuk to tell what time the sun sets by the almanac!'

He set to work like a juvenile steam engine, his heavy teeth grinding as if they were mill-stones, the dust flying, but desperately intent on earning good living wages, though the labor was decidedly bad living. With the voracity of a Bengal tiger, and a spirit worthy of a better cause, the martyr to the progress of science continued his task, wondering beyond expression in his own mind how many bands, or rather how many sets of teeth, it took to do the chewing of that 'tarnation big mill.' But it was in vain that the heavy jaws wagged, and the sharp teeth crushed—the pile of chewed rags did not seem to grow very fast; and to add to the machine's rising feelings of indignation, a crowd began to gather round to witness the singular spectacle of human opposition to the rag-breakers, shaking the whole building from another department.

'What in darnation are you gapin at?' at last exclaimed the rag-chewer through a mouthful of rags in a state of mastication. 'Drat ye, thar is fifty rag-spilin machines like me up stairs, all in a bunch. Why don't you go up and see them?'

The crowd looked very much delighted, and expressed themselves highly pleased with his performance.

'I know that I can't go it like them fellers up stairs, for my grinders aint used to it; besides, I don't believe horse-blankets is good to start on. But I tell you, strangers, when it comes to vittals or tobacker, I'm thar.'

The fun began to rise, and with it the rag-chewer's indignation. 'See here, stranger,' he bellowed, spitting out his last attempt, and hallooing at his employer, who had just appeared, 'blamed to blamenation, if I'm going to sit here and be laughed at in this here way! If you don't put me up stairs among the rest of 'em, I won't chew up another blanket—darned if I do!'

'What!' exclaimed the employer, with a sober face and very indignantly, 'is that all you've chewed up? And wet, too, by thunder! Get out of this—you'll never do for this business in the world. There's a blanket ruined to all eternity, too; for you've wet every mouthful, and how can we make dry paper out of wet rags? Come, move yourself in a hurry.'

The victim did not await a second invitation, but went off in all speed for fear he should be called upon to pay for the blanket, and fully determined hereafter to stick to his lawful business, and let paper mills alone.

A young lady, employed in teaching a district school somewhere in Ohio, wished to open the school with prayer, and for that purpose asked the consent of the trustees. It was given readily on one condition, that the prayer should not be 'sectarian.' The condition was accepted. After some weeks the school mistress was summoned to attend the trustees.

Complaint had been made that the daily prayer, contrary to conditions, was 'sectarian.' The young lady had no knowledge of the charge. She asked for the specifications. A grave trustee arose and stated that he was sorry to be obliged to testify that he himself had heard a 'sectarian' prayer while visiting the school.

'Well, what was it?'

'It was an Episcopal prayer. He had read it in the Episcopal Prayer Book.'

'Impossible,' was the reply. 'Repeat it; what was it?'

'Well, he couldn't say it all, but it was the prayer that began, 'Our Father which art in heaven.'

AN IOWA DEMOCRAT ON COPPERHEADS.—Gen. M. M. Crocker, always a democrat, formerly Colonel of the 13th Iowa Infantry, promoted to Brigadier General for distinguished services in the field, and now commanding a brigade of Iowa troops near Vicksburg—one of Iowa's noblest sons, thus writes to a friend in this city on hearing that Davenport had elected the whole Union ticket at the municipal election:

"I am glad that you have got the upper hand of the copperheads—the poor, miserable, cowardly, sneaking, boot-licking wretches. You can say to them that the patriots of the country will substitute for them the negroes that are now being enrolled into regiments; for my part, I think them altogether preferable, and infinitely whiter."—Davenport Gazette.

HUMAN NATURE.—They tell a good story of two bachelors down East, who lived a sort of cat-and-dog life, to their neighbors discomfort, for a good many years, but who had been at camp-meeting, were slightly converted, and both of them concluded to reform.

'Brother Tom, says one, when they had arrived at their homes, 'let us sit down, now, and I'll tell you what we'll do. You tell me of my faults and I'll tell you of yours, and so we will know how to go about mending of 'em.'

'Good,' says brother Tom.

'Well, you begin.'

'No, you begin brother Joe.'

'Well, in the first place, you know, brother Tom, you will lie!'

Crack! goes brother Tom's paw, and a considerable of a scrimmage ensues, until, in the course of about ten minutes, neither being able to come to time, reformation is postponed sine die.

* * * * * * *

Lands appropriated by law for the use of schools, military and other purposes, or lands on which applications have been filed under the provisions of the Homestead law, will be excluded from the sales.

The offering of the above lands will be commenced on the days appointed, and will proceed in the order in which they are advertised, until the whole shall have been offered, and the sales thus closed, but no sale shall be kept open longer than two weeks, and no private entry of any of the lands will be allowed after the expiration of that two weeks.

Given under my hand, at the City of Washington, this twentieth day of March, Anno Dominion one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three.

By the President:

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

J. M. EDMUNDS,
Commissioner of the General Land Office.

NOTE.—Under the regulations of the department, as heretofore and now existing, no payment can be made for advertising proclamations except to such publishers as are specially authorized to publish by the Commissioner of the General Land Office. 34:tq

HELMBOLD'S Genuine Preparation.

'HIGHLY CONCENTRATED'

Compound Fluid

EXTRACT BUCHU,

A POSITIVE AND SPECIFIC REMEDY

FOR DISEASES OF THE

BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL

AND

DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.

This Medicine increases the power of DIGESTION and excites the ABSORBENTS into healthy action, by which the WATERY or CALCEROUS depositions, and CONSTITUTIONAL ENLARGEMENTS are reduced, as well as PAIN and INFLAMMATION, and is good for MEN, WOMEN OR CHILDREN.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion or Abuse,

ATTENDED WITH THE FOLLOWING SYMPTOMS:

Indigestion to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Weak Nerves, Horror of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Universal Lassitude of the Hot Hands, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance.

Loss of Power, Difficulty of Breathing, Trembling, Wakefulness, Pain in the Back, Nervous Irritation, Flushing of the Body, Eruptions on the Face.

These symptoms if allowed to go, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPECT.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases,"

"INSANITY, AND CONSUMPTION,"

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess.

THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS,

And the melancholy deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion that

THE CONSTITUTION,

once affected by Organic Weakness,

Requires the Aid of Medicine, to strengthen and invigorate the system, which

invariably does.

A Trial will Convince the most Skeptical.

FEMALES! FEMALES!! FEMALES!!

OLD OR YOUNG,

Single, Married or contemplating Marriage

IN MANY AFFECTIONS PECULIAR TO FEMALES, the Extract of Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulceration or Schirrous state of the Uterus, Leucorrhœa or Whites, sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from Indiscretion, Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE

(See symptoms above.

No Family should be without it.

TAKE NO MORE BALSAM, MERCURY, OR UNPLEASANT MEDICINE FOR UNPLEASANT AND DANGEROUS DISEASES.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

HELMBOLD'S IMPROVED ROSE WASH

CURES SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages; At Little Expense; Little or no Change in Diet; No inconvenience, AND NO EXPOSURE.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obstructions, preventing and curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of Diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, diseased and worn out matter.

THOUSANDS UPON THOUSANDS

Who have been the victims of Quacks

and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been driven up in the system, to break out in a more aggravated form, and perhaps after marriage.

Use Helmbold's Extract Buchu

for all Affections and Diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE OR FEMALE, from whatever cause originating, and

NO MATTER OF HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs require the aid of a Diuretic.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

IS THE GREAT DIURETIC,

And it is certain to have the desired effect in Diseases for which it is recommended.

Evidence of the most Responsible and reliable character will accompany the medicines.

Certificates of Cures
